VOLUME 30 (1988)

Special issue: Biosurfactants. Selected Papers from a Symposium for the Division of Colloid and Surface Chemistry, American Chemical Society, National Meeting, Denver, 5–10 April 1987.

Preface vii

Surfactants and the stratum corneum lipids

The effect of the monosodium salt of a C_{21} dicarboxylic acid hydrotrope on biosurfactant bilayers: transdermal delivery considerations
D.W. Osborne (Kalamazoo, MI, U.S.A.) 13

Modification of substrate surface properties through protein adsorption
D.R. Absolom and A.W. Neumann (Toronto, Canada) 25

Lysophospholipids as biosurfactants
R.E. Stafford and E.A. Dennis (La Jolla, CA, U.S.A.) 47

Membrane fusion: kinetics and mechanisms
J. Bentz and H. Ellens (San Francisco, CA, U.S.A.) 65

Short-chain lecithins: how to form unilamellar vesicles from micelles and phospholipid multibilayers
M.F. Roberts and N.E. Gabriel (Cambridge, MA, U.S.A.) 113

Determination of the relative molal heat content of dipalmitoylphosphatidylcholine vesicles in various physical states
G.C. Kresheck and H.B. Long (De Kalb, IL, U.S.A.) 133

Bile salts as biological surfactants
A.F. Hofmann and K.J. Mysels (La Jolla, CA, U.S.A.) 145

The possibility of using bile salt as primary surfactant and cosurfactant in saline water systems
Y.C. Chiu, I.J. Liu andY.C. Sun (Chung-Li, Taiwan) 175

Research report on proteins in reverse micelles. Structural aspects and enzymology
L. Magid (Knoxville, TN, U.S.A.), P. Walde, G. Zampieri, E. Battistel, Q. Peng, E. Trotta, M. Maestro and P.L. Luisi (Zürich, Switzerland) 193

Surface pressure, surface potential and ellipsometric study of cytochrome c binding to dioleoylphosphatidylcholine monolayer at the air–water interface
F. Lamarche, F. Téchy, J. Aghion and R.M. Leblanc (Trois-Rivières, Canada) 209

A new method to evaluate expansion/compression stress–strain properties of surface films of biological surfactants
A.J. Mautone, A. Ritter and J. Boyle III (Newark, NJ, U.S.A.) 223

End of special issue papers

Interaction of hydrophobized filaments in aqueous electrolyte solutions
Ya.I. Rabinovich and B.V. Derjaguin (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 243

On the concept of percolative conduction in water-in-oil microemulsions
C. Mathew, P.K. Patanjali, A. Nabi and A. Maitra (Delhi, India) 253

^{1}H-NMR spectroscopic investigation of reversed micellization in metal/organophosphorous surfactant systems
A.G. Gaonkar (Auburn, AL, U.S.A.), T.M. Garver, Jr (St. Paul, MN, U.S.A.) and R.D. Neuman (Auburn, AL, U.S.A.) 265
Gas-adsorption studies on correlations between the flotability of minerals and the work of water adhesion to their surfaces
W. Wójcik and B. Bilínski (Lublin, Poland) 275
FT-IR spectroscopic studies on interactions of fatty acids in solution and on a salt surface
S. Ganguly and V.K. Mohan (Bangalore, India) 287
The double layer potential ϕ_δ as a rate determining factor in the coagulation of electrocratic colloids
G. Frens and J.J.F.G. Heuts (Eindhoven, The Netherlands) 295
Contact interaction between fluid particles in liquid media. 5. Specific interaction between adsorbed layers of macromolecules and criterion of aggregative stability of dispersions
V.G. Babak (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 307
Solubilization of n-hexanol in mixed micelles
C.M. Nguyen, J.F. Scamehorn and S.D. Christian (Norman, OK, U.S.A.) 335
Stability of polymer–clay suspensions. The polyacrylamide–sodium kaolinite system
L. Nabzar, E. Pefferkorn and R. Varoqui (Strasbourg, France) 345
Highly ordered microstructure of flocculated aggregates
K. Wong (New York, NY, U.S.A.), B. Cabane (Orsay, France) and P. Somasundaran (New York, NY, U.S.A.) 355
The influence of serum and albumin on the constant composition growth and surface properties of calcium oxalate monohydrate
S.A. Smesko, R.P. Singh, A.C. Lanzalaco and G.H. Nancollas (Buffalo, NY, U.S.A.) 361
The effect of ultrasonication on the surface properties, ionic composition and electrophoretic mobility of an aqueous coal suspension
C.W. Angle, J.C. Donini and H.A. Hamza (Devon, Canada) 373
Influence of lead ions on the adsorption characteristics of galena in flotation
S.R. Popov and D.R. Vučinić (Belgrade, Yugoslavia) 387
Short term kinetics of polymer adsorption on glass substrate
P. Somasundaran and A. Sivakumar (New York, NY, U.S.A.) 401
On the relation between surface energy, internal pressure and molar volume in pure fluids
I. Vavruch (Marly, Switzerland) 405
